

Parkerville resident, Storme Reeves, will put on a concert to raise money for UNICEF and Save Perth Hills next month.

Storme is on the horizon

A Parkerville musician is getting vocal for a good cause.

Storme Reeves is putting on a concert at the Parkerville Hotel next month to raise money for UNICEF and Save Perth Hills.

Storme has been performing for 15 years and has three albums under her belt, including the new Gone to Freedom.

Although having performed hundreds of times before, this will be her first fundraising concert.

The idea came about after she saw a program on television where a celebrity was raising money for UNICEF.

"I used to think you had to be rich and famous to do huge gigs but then I thought, 'no, I'll just do it at the Parky' [Parkerville Hotel]," she said.

"I just want to help the world be a better place and if you can help, then why not?"

The concert will feature Storme and the Weathermen, Jon Pratt, Mark Rayner, Paul Bradley, Sasha Solig and Mike Lomond. Storme, who has been playing the guitar for 10 years, has just received a distribution deal with MGM and hopes to put on more concerts in the future to help others, including farmers.

The event will also include face painting, information stalls, street performers, art exhibits and raffles with many prizes to be won.

The concert will be held on Saturday, March 3 from 2 pm to 6 pm.

For more information about Storme, visit www.storme.com.au.